PLAN

The bent steel plate is articulated in a way to push the idea that one should Take a Moment and enjoy a book. These books are displayed in a plexiglass box that allows the reader to view the entire book, and lets the book graphics enhance the overall aesthetic of this Little Free Library. A wood plaque is placed in between these book displays and is laser etched to tell the story. The design moves are simple, and they will allow our metal shop to fabricate efficiently.
